POLITICAL

The Vermont Election

White River Junction, Vt., Sept. 6—Sixty towns in 13 counties give Fairbanks [illegible], Bingham 749. The same towns in 1874 gave Peck 41 68, Bingham [illegible]. Republican gain 2,370.

Montpelier, Sept. 6—Complete returns will not be known before to-morrow. Of the towns representatives elected 111 are Republicans and 8 Democrats, 3 unknown.

Boston, Sept. 6.—One hundred and thirty towns in Vermont give Fairbanks, Rep., for governor [illegible], Bingham, Dem. [illegible]

Boston, Sept 6.—156 towns give Fairbanks [illegible], Bingham 1[illegible]. The same towns in 1874 gave Peck [illegible], Bingham 11 267—Republican gain 3 857. In the first district 60 towns give Joyce [illegible], Childs [illegible]; in the second district 55 towns give Denison 11 [illegible], Dickey 1 430. In the third district 138 towns gave Hendee [illegible], Edwards [illegible]. Fifty five of the towns not heard from gave Peck in 1874 6 540, Bingham [illegible]. Peck's majority [illegible]. The returns at this election in the same towns will be comparatively about the same. This would give a Republican majority on the gubernatorial vote of 21,[illegible] or a gain of 856 over 1874. Town representatives elected are 161 Republicans and 17 Democrats. There are 10 towns not heard from on the Congressional vote.

Arkansas Election

Little Rock, Sept. 6—Full returns from this county not yet received; both sides claim it. Full returns from outside counties show the vote generally very full. Democrats claim the State by from 40 000 to 5[illegible] 000 majority.

Washington City Election.

Washington, Sept. 6—In the city election to day the Republicans elected 9 out of 11 councilmen. Republican majority for Congress about 1,200.

Political Row in Nashville.

Nashville, Sept. 6.—At the meeting to-night to organize a colored Democratic club an attempt was made by other negroes to break it up, necessitating the interference of the police.

Gen. Harrison on the Stump.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 6.—The Republicans had a very large mass meeting to-day and to-night. Gen. Ben Harrison spoke in the afternoon. Gen. Terry of New York. At night 1,100 torches were in the procession.

Nominations.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Sept. 6.—The Democrats of the 5th Congressional district at Blairstown to-day nominated Andrew F. Beatty.

St. Louis, Sept. 6.—David Rea was nominated for re-election to Congress by the Democrats of the 9th district of this State yesterday.

Detroit, Sept. 6.—The Democrats of the sixth district, renominated Geo. H. Durand.

Scott Lord Renominated.

New York, Sept. 6—Scott Lord has been renominated for Congress by acclamation.

Unwilling to Accept.

Cleveland, Sept. 6.—The Democratic central committee to-day nominated H. B. Payne vice Rimsey declined, for representative in this district. It is doubtful if Payne will accept, as he declined before the convention.

Randolph Tucker Renominated.

New York, Sept. 6.—The Virginia Democrats renominated Randolph Tucker in the 6th district. Dr. Charles S. Mills, collector of the port of Richmond, is his opponent.

Gov Tilden's Income Tax.

The Herald's Washington special says since the publication of the action taken at the treasury department in regard to the alleged false returns of income made by Tilden, Representative Hewitt, of New York, has addressed a communication to the secretary of the treasury asking the facts and the official information had by the department in connection with the internal revenue returns of both Tilden and Hayes, the two respective presidential candidates of the Democratic and Republican parties. This letter has been referred to General Raum, the commissioner of internal revenue. As Mr. Hewitt is regarded in the light of Gov. Tilden's special political friend and champion, the secretary feels there is a propriety in responding to the request made by him.

Troubles in Louisiana.

Washington, Sept. 6.—A telegram was received yesterday from Marshall Packard of Louisiana, stating that indications of serious disorders in that State are increasing. It was sent by the Attorney General to day to the President.

Assassination of Republican Leaders.

A dispatch from New Orleans this morning says the advice of the New Orleans Democratic campaign organ to people in the country to act with coolness and discretion, leave poor negroes alone and go for the white leaders, appears to be faithfully followed. This is the fourth Republican parish in which the leading white officials have been shot since the campaign opened.

The Conshatta Matter Caused by an Old Feud.

New Orleans, Sept. 6.—A special to the Bulletin from Conshatta says Wester, clerk of the court, who was shot on Sunday last, says he recognized in the man an old personal enemy who had repeatedly threatened his life. Wester says there was no political motive in it.

Protection for Colored Voters.

The Tribune's Washington special says: At the conference here yesterday with Cameron it was decided to instruct Gen. Ruger to so dispose the troops in South Carolina and other Southern States that political meetings will be protected from interruption by armed mobs like Butler's bandits. Senator Patterson, of South Carolina, says the only way to get the Union vote out is to hold large meetings at central points, for Republicans dare not risk their lives by attempting to go on the plantation. The plan adopted by armed bands of white liners to attend in large numbers all Republican meetings and interrupt them by demanding and enforcing a division of time in speaking has in many cases so frightened the negroes that they fear to attend other meetings and may not have confidence enough to go to the polls and vote. Application will be made for distribution of a number of companies of U. S. troops at points throughout Florida where a great portion of the population are colored. It is claimed that stationing troops there would protect and give a feeling of security and would secure radiating points whence troops could concentrate at a moment's warning.

Application will be made from Florida to the Republican campaign committee to recognize the following as the regular Republican ticket for Florida: For governor, M. L. Stearns; lieutenant governor, David Montgomery; Congress, first district, J. Purtnam; second district, Horace Bisby Jr. The committee has been requested to proclaim this as the true ticket.

The Slander against Gov. Hayes.

Chicago, Sept. 6—The Inter Ocean has a special from Columbus, Ohio, concerning the alleged falsity of Gov. Hayes' revenue returns, which gives facts and figures to show that the whole story is a series of misrepresentations and untruths. The Governor has furnished the Ohio State Journal with the facts in regard to the principal charge that his uncle Birchard left him nearly $4,000 with which to pay bequests made by Birchard and which he was allowed to hold three years, and that he did not return the money for taxation. Hayes says not a dollar was left him to pay bequests. It was intended that these should be paid from sales of land and he was given three years to dispose of the real estate, which of course is taxed by the county without consultation with its holder.

Dearth of News

The morning journals contain little but political news. The Sun and World ignore the Associated Press dispatch and declare Vermont shows Democratic gains.

Former Democratic Paper Declares for Hayes and Wheeler

Wheeling, W. Va., Sept. 6—The Intelligencer published in this State, hitherto a Democratic journal, came out yesterday in the interest of Hayes and Wheeler.

Political Campaign in Indiana

Logansport, Sept. 6—Judge Bittenhoffer of New York and Senator Sherman, of Ohio, addressed the meeting at the Wigwam to-night. They had an enthusiastic reception. The Judge referred to the position of the Democratic party during the Franco Prussian war and reminded the Germans that the party neither offered them nor the Fatherland any sympathy in the struggle; that Hendricks, when called on at the Indianapolis meeting, had not time to determine which side was right, while the Republican Governor Baker made a rousing speech for the Germans.

CANADA

Fire and Loss of Life

New York, Sept. 6.—The telegraph and [illegible] hotels and several other buildings in Streetsville, Ont., were burned to-day. Loss $50,000. Two lives were lost.

Toronto, Sept. 6.—The fire in Durham yesterday burned Argyle hotel, the registry office, Trinity church and half a dozen dwellings. Loss $25,000.

Leave Granted to Engage in Politics

Quebec, Sept. 6.—Important news has been received from Rome that the Holy See has decided that the Professors in the Laval University of Quebec may engage in politics if they think proper, and on which ever side they see fit.

The Archbishop of Quebec has prohibited the Roman Catholic population of this archdiocese from reading, selling or [illegible] in any way the French weekly paper here known as the [illegible].

MEXICO

The Situation in Mexico

New York, Sept. 6.—Dates from the City of Mexico to the 1st have been received. Diaz continues in Oaxaca. The government is preparing to attack him. The government troops have had several minor successes. Two Mexican war ships have been sent to Tampico at the mouth of the Rio Grande.

The Black Hills miners are agitating the carvation of a new Territory from Dakota, Wyoming and Montana.

POLITICAL CONVENTIONS

Massachusetts Republican Convention

[illegible]

The resolutions ratify the action of the national convention at Cincinnati and pledge the earnest support to Hayes and Wheeler; [illegible] the President's [illegible] service [illegible] the blessings of peace and the enjoyment of all alike of liberty under the law; express gratitude to the retiring President for his military service and maintaining the national honor and credit; arraign the Democratic party for repeating the perilous experiment of sectional organization in the South founded upon animosity of race and color, and for duplicity in financial matters—its national candidates one of them an inflationist and the other guilty of conniving at his own [illegible] conciliate a class whose heresies he knows would lead to financial chaos, and the disciples of that ultra school which before the war admitted the right of a State to secede and since the war denies the power of the nation to protect the lives and rights of its citizens. The resolutions pledge the use of every means for the revival of business and trade, simplification of taxation and prudent husbanding of the public money, and favor such legislation as will promote the causes of education, temperance, labor, and the full rights of American citizens irrespective of sect.

Thomas Talbot and Stephen Salisbury were chosen electors at large. Convention adjourned.

Massachusetts Democratic Convention

Worcester, Sept. 6.—The Democratic State Convention met to-day. Wm. W. Wert of Warren chairman. After recess Charles Francis Adams was nominated for Governor by acclamation.

Boston, Sept. 6.—A special from Worcester says Mr. Gaston will take second place on the ticket.

Wm. R. Plunkett, of Pittsfield, was nominated for Lieut. Governor; Edward W. Lathrop for Secretary of State; Weston Howland for Treasurer; John E. Fitzgerald for Auditor; Richard Olney for Attorney General. Ex-Governor Gaston heads the electoral ticket. The resolutions adopted approve with satisfaction the action of the late National Convention at St. Louis, demand payment in coin of the debt represented by legal tenders as well as the bonded debt; denounce the Republican party for neglecting to carry out the financial policy for resumption; ask the people to entrust to the Democratic party the accomplishment of this vital need, and express gratitude to the House of Representatives for its efforts to reduce expenses and its resolute inquiries into official maladministration; rejoice in the social order, the rapidly reviving prosperity and the established cordial relations between the races in the South wherever Democratic rule exists; denounce the Republican party for its mismanagement of affairs in the Freedman's Bank and declare it to be the duty of Congress to secure sufferers indemnity for their losses, and the depression in trade and commerce is attributed to the misgovernment of the Republican party. The resolutions finally demand a return from extravagance to simplicity and economy.

Connecticut Democratic Convention.

Hartford, Sept. 6.—The Democratic State convention organized to-day, with Chas. Durand president, and after recess, nominated the following ticket: Governor, Richard D. Hubbard; Lieutenant Governor, Francis B. Loomis, both by acclamation; secretary of state, Dwight L. Morris; treasurer, Edwin A. Buck; comptroller, Chas. C. Hubbard. Electors at large, Gov. Chas. R. Ingersoll and Gen. Wm. B. Franklin. Resolutions adopted cordially approve the platform and nominations of the national convention at St. Louis, arraign the Republican party for corruption and demand a change of administration to secure radical reform in the civil service; charge the Republican party with opposing the economical policy of the Democrats and causing the depression of business by official corruption and extravagance, and demand rigid economy in public expenditures; thank the Democratic House for retrenchment despite the opposition of the Republicans; call for the removal of all dishonest officials; demand that the array of Federal bayonets around the polls when peaceable citizens are voting shall cease; denounce the recent order of the Attorney General as an outrage; ask for wiser policy in the system of taxation; demand the return to specie payment by the most speedy and practicable method, and discountenance the imposition of revengeful acts upon any section of our common country.

Missouri Greenback Convention.

Jefferson City, Sept. 6.—The Greenback Convention organized temporarily to-day and took a recess.

After recess R. G. Hubbard was chosen permanent chairman. The resolutions endorse the Indianapolis platform, denounce the demonetizing of silver, demand that all stocks and bonds be properly taxed, recommend the election of Congressmen who are directly interested in industrial pursuits, demand men and measures be divorced from party fealty, and endorse Cooper and Carey.

The following ticket was nominated: Governor, J. P. Alexander; Lieut. Governor, Jas. E. Owens.

Nebraska Democratic Convention.

Omaha, Sept. 6.—The Democratic State Convention met here to-day. Gen. Jos. H. Hillman of Dakota county was nominated for Congress; Paren England of Lancaster county for Governor. Resolutions were passed indorsing the action of the St. Louis convention, arraigning the Republican party for broken pledges of economy, denouncing the policy of the Republican party in furnishing arms to the Indians and placing the army in the South, and demanding the strictest economy in the administration of all departments of government.

WASHINGTON CITY

President Grant's Reply to Emperor William.

Washington, Sept. 6.—The following is the President's reply to the Emperor of Germany's letter of congratulation on the Centennary of American Independence:

Washington, D. C., July 18th.

Ulysses S. Grant, President of the United States of America, to William, Emperor of Germany, King of Prussia, &c. &c., Great and good friend:—Your letter of June 9th, in which you were pleased to offer your cordial congratulation upon the American Centennial anniversary, which we have recently celebrated, was placed in my hands on the 4th July, and its contents were perused with unfeigned satisfaction. Such expressions of sympathy for the past progress of this country, and of good wishes for its further welfare as are contained in that communication are more gratifying because they proceed from the head of a great empire with which this Republic during the whole century of its existence has maintained relations of peace and friendship, which have been conspicuous alike in prosperity and in adversity, and have become continually firmer with the increasing progress and prosperity of both countries. It is my sincere desire that this mutual cordiality and this prosperity which have been the lot of the two countries during the first century of our independence may be vouchsafed during the century which is to come, and wishing you a long reign of health and happiness I pray God that he may have your majesty in his safe and holy keeping.

U. S. GRANT.

By the President:
HAMILTON FISH, Secretary.

Secretary Chandler in New York

The Chicago Tribune's Washington special says Secretary Chandler has gone to New York on business connected with the Republican campaign committee. It is expected during his absence many very important documents relative to Tilden will be made public in New York.

Fleeing from the Yellow Fever

A number of fugitives from the Savannah yellow fever district have arrived here. A gentleman doing business there says the panic is indescribable, and all persons able to do so have fled. There is a general feeling among citizens that the fever is much worse than reported. 3,000 people had fled in alarm.

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 6.—Yellow fever interments yesterday 10.

Redemption of 5-20 Bonds

Washington, Sept. 6.—The Secretary of the Treasury has called for the redemption of ten million 5-20 bonds of 1865, May and November, upon which interest will cease the 6th of December.

Recruits for Cavalry Regiments

Washington, Sept. 6.—Four hundred recruits will be promptly forwarded to the 5th and 7th cavalry regiments.

Report Affecting Mr. Bristow

Chicago, Sept. 6.—The Tribune's Washington special says W. E. Moore, special agent of the Treasury, is reported to be preparing a statement which he claims will give the operations of an organized plan to secure the President's nomination for Bristow. Moore was dismissed from the secret service by Bluford Wilson about the time of the Babcock trials, in which Moore was to have been a witness. Wilson and Moore quarreled, and the former refused to pay Moore out of the [illegible] fund for his St. Louis expenses. Moore [illegible] paid the expenses when he became Secretary. Moore's statement is an attack on Bristow and Wilson, and holds Bristow responsible for all Wilson's acts in letting [illegible] the conspiracy which the President has spoken. It pretends that Bristow [illegible] and approved the conspiracy.

Resurvey of the Union and Central Pacific R. R. Lines

A Tribune's Washington special says: Major Wm. J. Twining, Capt. Wm. H. Heuer, [illegible] Gregory, Lieuts. D. D. Green and Jas. B. Quinn, of the engineer corps of the U. S. army, have been ordered to proceed to commence resurveying the Union and Central Pacific lines from Omaha to Sacramento. The work will be divided into four divisions, with an officer in charge of each, under the general direction of Maj. Twining. This is done to balance with the recently passed [illegible] and is for the purpose of [illegible] the entire length of both roads, it being asserted that the roads are not as long as has been claimed. As government bonds were issued in their construction at the rate of $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, the question of length becomes important.

How the Attorney-General's Letter was Received in Baltimore

The Tribune's Washington special says: The Democrats of Baltimore received the Attorney General's letter in the spirit in which the Baltimore mob received the Massachusetts troops on the 19th of April 1861. The leading Democratic organ there to lay calls on the party to organize minute men [illegible] means of preventing [illegible]. It hints that the polls [illegible] says the [illegible] may be called [illegible] civil and religious liberty should take the lead in the patriotic work. Baltimore, which led in shooting down Union soldiers on their way to protect Washington in its [illegible] was the first in behalf of the United States [illegible] to the [illegible]

THE SIOUX CAMPAIGN

News from Crook

St. Paul, Sept. 6.—Intelligence by way of Bismarck is that on the 31st of August Crook was near Glendive, 8 miles south of the Yellowstone, en route for Glendive for supplies. Terry was on the north side of the Yellowstone 15 miles below Glendive, marching on. Eight miles below him the Josephine saw a large fresh trail leading north which Terry should have struck Sept. 1. The Josephine reports 10 inches of water in the Yellowstone, on the 30th, with 100 inches on the rapids, which she passed over at that stage. The Far West is above the rapids and will winter in Yellowstone.

Effectual Method of Disarming an Indian.

Cheyenne, Sept. 6.—Henry Homans, who arrived at Sidney yesterday, reports that Sioux Jim and family came into Red Cloud agency from the north on the 9th ult. The commanding officer instituted search for them among the agency Indians. They were found by American Horse, chief of one of the bands at the agency, but Jim refused to surrender his arms, whereupon American Horse shot and killed him, taking his family prisoners.

Gen. Terry's Movements.

Chicago, Sept. 6.—The Times special from Terry's camp, August 30th, via Bismarck, says: The command left the Yellowstone river near the mouth of Altop's on the evening of the 27th, moving due north for ten miles, and went into camp. At four o'clock the next morning the march was resumed. The country is dead and parched, rendering long marches impossible. Water is scarce, the small streams being dry. After the first day's march the command entered the buffalo range north of the Yellowstone and hunting parties were detailed which secured game enough to last some days. Yesterday afternoon the command camped on the north fork of Rush creek, 80 miles north of the Yellowstone, bordering on the divide between the Yellowstone and Missouri river. Capt. Ball, with a detachment of four companies, left the main column with instructions to move north across the divide in search of Indian trails leading towards Big Dry creek or Mussel Shell river. The battalion rode 20 miles while the main column moved east, and is now in camp on Deer creek, a tributary of the Yellowstone. Capt. Ball returned to-night, reporting that he discovered no heavy trails; hence no large body of Indians have crossed the river to move toward Fort Benton. The carcasses of buffalo and old trails only were discovered. The present camp is within 12 miles of the south fork of Glendive creek, where the junction if any was to be formed with Crook. A courier leaves for Crook to-night. Terry is convinced that the Indians have not crossed the river in any force west of us, and if they have gone north at all it is towards Fort Peck. It is expected that the infantry will move east to-morrow and that their ultimate destination is Fort Peck, on the Missouri. There appears no possibility of further junction of Crook and Terry for field work.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

The Eastern Question.

London, Sept. 6.—A Vienna correspondent says: The military situation is greatly in favor of the Turks. Should diplomatic action fail to secure suspension of hostilities it is almost the unanimous expression of Europe that Turkey can not too soon read the expression of public opinion if she would preserve her position in Europe. In fact, the strong feeling excited by the Bulgarian matters is one of the most important elements in this question. Demonstrations are now being made in England against Turkey and the feeling is becoming so strong and unmistakable that the friends of the government likewise are taking up the case and seeking to prevent the question becoming a party one. A pamphlet on the subject by Gladstone will be published this week.

Call for an Autumn Session.

Earl Russell again writes a letter calling for an autumn session of Parliament.

Relief of the Bulgarians.

A letter from the Bishop of Manchester, calling upon the people as a nation to subscribe for the relief of the Bulgarians, contains the following sentiment: Come what may, and I don't see anything is likely, even possible, to come which can endanger the position of England, it seems impossible, if we are to have any regard for our honor and our good name, that we should any longer throw or even allow it to be supposed we threw the protection of England over a power which, relying on that protection, has done deeds which have startled and shocked the conscience of the whole world.

The English Press on the Situation.

The Times to-day in a leading article, argues that it is policy to retain Turkey as an independent member of the European system. The right of neutral powers to intervene in her affairs was long ago established. We have not morally only, but as a matter of international law the right to see that justice is done to the Porte's Christian subjects. All that is permanent in the English policy in the East may be summed up in a sentence, that we desire to reduce to a minimum the disturbances involved in every inevitable change. If Lord Derby would know, in short, what Englishmen want, it is to turn from vain repetition of the language of tradition and to come to an agreement with the Czar on terms which the two powers can press with irresistible authority on the Sultan and his ministers. The Pall Mall Gazette apprehends that Servian reliance in Russian aid had been so palpable throughout that Russia will be almost compelled to protect her now and may interfere in such a manner as to provoke a great war. This the only danger. Turkey will listen to amative councils if the nations are not defeated by Russian demands in excess of the Porte's patience. Meanwhile an armistice may be regarded as certain.

Gladstone on the Bulgarian Atrocities.

London, Sept. 6.—Gladstone in his pamphlet on the Bulgarian horrors and the question of the East says it is urgent in addition to the termination of the war, first to put an end to the anarchical misrule, plundering and murdering which still desolate Bulgaria; second to make effectual provision against its recurrence by excluding the Ottoman government from administrative control, not only in Bosnia and Herzegovina, but above all in Bulgaria; third to redeem by these measures the honor of the British name, which in the deplorable events of the year, has been more gravely compromised than we have known it in any former period. Gladstone says he still desires to see the territorial integrity of Turkey upheld, though that desire should not be treated as paramount, as there are still higher objects of policy. As an old servant of the Crown and State he entreats his countrymen to require and insist that the government which has been working in one direction shall work in the other, and shall apply all its vigor to concur with other States of Europe in obtaining the extinction of Turkish executive power from Bulgaria. Gladstone concludes with an appeal for an organized collection and distribution of relief to the Bulgarians.

No News from Gen. Tchernayoff

Belgrade, Sept. 6.—The Minister of War has not had word from Gen. Tchernayoff for two days. The Turks are reported marching on Krugejevatz and Belgrade. The Montenegrins fiercely attacked Mukhtar Pasha yesterday, but with what result has not yet been made known.

Servian and Turkish Politics

Vienna, Sept. 6.—Since the declaration that England would not support Turkey against Russian interference, Austria is looked upon in Constantinople as the power to oppose Russia, and consequently the Austrian ambassador now occupies the exceptional position of power which the British ambassador recently held. The Turks are by no means discouraged and have great faith in their own military power. Turkey, through her ambassadors at the European courts, has decidedly refused to grant an armistice, but expresses her willingness to treat for peace.

The Turks Take Alexinatz

Vienna, Sept. 6.—A dispatch from Semlin announces that the Turks have occupied Alexinatz.

The Truth of the Bulgarian Stories to be Ascertained.

London, Sept. 6.—Lord Derby has written a letter saying no efforts will be spared by her majesty's government to ascertain the exact truth with regard to the occurrences in Bulgaria and will be ready in common with other powers to take such action upon them as the justice of the case may require.

Hostilities on the West Coast of Africa.

A London special from Madeira says intelligence has been received there of the outbreak of hostilities on the west coast of Africa. The British expedition consisting of three ships under Commodore Hewitt ascended the river Niger and had a conflict with the natives. Several villages were burned and a number of Englishmen wounded.

England Warns Turkey.

A dispatch from Constantinople to the Daily Telegraph says the British government made strong representations to Turkey through her ambassador that if the war continued Turkey must be prepared to see Russia openly giving support to Servia.

Outbreak of War between Russia and Turkey Inevitable.

London, Sept. 6.—The Standard's correspondent at Berlin says since the declination of Turkey to grant an armistice the outbreak of a Russian Turkish war is deemed inevitable in well informed circles.

The Standard's correspondent at Nissa makes the surprising statement that a large number of Bulgarians of all classes are joining the army. They are represented as showing much feeling against the Servians because the latter have brought the mischief on them.

Failures.

London, Sept. 6.—Several trade failures in the provinces are announced to-day with liabilities aggregating about $100,000.

The Bank of England.

London, Sept. 6.—The bullion gone into Bank of England on balance to day amounts to £410 000.

Caving of a Tunnel.

London, Sept. 6—A new tunnel for the underground railway in process of construction under Bishopsgate street caved in this afternoon. Four or five workmen were exhumed and taken to the hospital.

Italian Officers Recalled.

Rome, Sept. 6.—La Liberte says the Italian Minister of War foreseeing fresh complications in the East, intends to recall officers and men on furlough.

OREGON

Wheat is quoted at 60 cents a bushel at Albany and oats at 37½.

The firemen turned out in force and uniform to Prof. White's lecture on Wonderland.

The farmers of Washington county are pressing every available force into service to finish up their harvesting.

E. W. Hartley, of the Waldo Hills, has just finished threshing 60 acres of wheat, which yielded 1 620 bushels machine measure, making an average of 27 bushels per acre. Pretty good average for a poor crop year.

It is reported that some parties have discovered a vein of coal some twenty miles above Brownsville. They have run a tunnel on the vein some seventy feet and find the coal improving in quality while the vein continues to widen.

The steamer Bonanza, which started up the river from Salem at an early hour Tuesday morning, on arriving at Eola, three miles above, stuck fast on a bar. In endeavoring to pull her off with the capstan, it broke, and the purser footed it back to Salem and telegraphed below for assistance.

Mr. J. B. Terhune, living on the H. A. Johnston homestead, near Jefferson, met with a severe accident on Monday. It seems that he was working a young horse and, in going down a steep pitch near his dwelling the team became unmanageable and ran off, throwing Mr. T. out of the wagon and in front of one of the wheels which passed across his abdomen, injuring him severely, and it is feared fatally.

The work on the new bridge across the North Fork of the Santiam near Jefferson, superintended by Jacob Conser, Esq., is being rapidly pushed forward. The first section will be raised next week and the entire structure ready for use in about five weeks. Mr. Conser informs the Statesman that the plan of the bridge insures its safety in case of high water, and it will be as durable a structure as there is in the valley.

The Mercury learns from A. L. Stinson, foreman of the State printing office, that the following reports of State officers are completed and in the hands of the binder: Reports of State Librarian, Superintendent of the Deaf and Dumb School and the State Agricultural College. The Report of the Secretary of State is nearly finished and will be completed during the first week of the session. The Report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction will be completed as early as Friday of this week and ready to lay on the desks of members at the convening of the legislature.

The Albany Democrat has the following strange story: Last Saturday as the stage driver from Lebanon to Sweet Home was returning from the latter place he rescued a little 2 year old boy from a terrible death. He had just passed the bridge on the new road between Ames' creek and Nye's when he saw before him in the road a little child which had lost its footing and fallen into a mud hole. It had evidently been there quite a while, as it had sunk into the mire up to its arm pits and would no doubt have been entirely submerged in a short time. The driver pulled the little fellow out and took him down to Mr. Clement's, where he was tenderly cared for but not recognized by any one. The whole affair is very strange, as the place where the child was found was fully a mile and a half from any house, and the little fellow did not seem strong enough to walk very far. When found it was accompanied by two young hounds, and appearances seemed to indicate that they had been trying to extricate their little master. Before the stage driver left Mr. Clement's several men had started out in search of the parents, and it is very probable that before night they would find them.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

Burglars are doing a little work in Victoria.

Hope Popcum road has been thoroughly repaired and cattle can be driven clear through from east of the Cascades to New Westminster.

Rev. Mr. Wright, who was archdeacon of the diocese of British Columbia in early colonial days, has accepted the position of archdeacon of Vancouver and he will shortly arrive in Victoria from England.

At McDame's creek, Cassiar, on the 13th of July, Luke Crucknell, a native of Norwich, met with his death by the sudden falling of an immense mass of earth whilst working in a claim owned by the Thistle Company.

At Chilliwhack the weather for the last few days is not at all what people would expect at this season of the year. Cheam peak was coated with snow last week. The farmers have secured the best part of their grain crop.

The proprietor of the Colonist of Victoria has instructed Messrs. Drake and Jackson to institute proceedings against the proprietor or proprietors of the Standard newspaper for publishing an indecent letter attacking his character.

A quartz mining company has been organized at Barkerville with 3,000 shares, all of which was taken up immediately. A meeting of the shareholders was held on 27th August, when the company was organized and a board of directors elected.

The weather at Cariboo still continues to be of the most extraordinary kind. Rain, hail and snow almost without intermission and the mountain tops covered with their winter garment. Up to the date of our latest advices it was impossible to cut hay, there having been but five fine days for four or five weeks.

On Lightning creek, Cariboo, the Van Winkle is the only paying claim working yet. The other paying claims are pumping out. One of the prospecting claims—the Gladstone—has been drowned out and the Eleven of England company have only so far struck small pay—five ounces for two or three days work.

James Lick and His Trustees.

San Francisco, Sept. 5.—James Lick, who sometimes since donated his fortune to public purposes, has become dissatisfied with the present board of trustees, and has determined if possible to effect a change. Last night he addressed a letter to each of the members of the board of trustees, informing them of the fact that he [illegible] them of their duties and obligations, and had appointed a new board of trustees to carry out his wishes. The board which Mr. Lick thus desires to summarily disband, consists of Richard Floyd, John Nightingale, F. D. Atherton, B. Murphy of Santa Clara, and John Lick, Jas. Lick's son. Abraham Block, president of the Odd Fellows' bank; Charles M. Plum, carpet dealer; Louis R. Lull, ex-secretary of the Society of California Pioneers, and another whose name is yet unknown constitute the new board of trustees. Mr. Lick it is understood, has become dissatisfied with the old board because they refused to expel his son, John Lick, who refused to sign certain papers. This is the second board of trustees Mr. Lick has set aside. What action the board will take in the premises is not yet known. Capt. Floyd, one of the trustees, is at present in Europe.

Change of Trustees of the Lick Trust.

George Schoenwald, Manager of the Lick House, says the new trustees are E. D. Mastick, attorney at law; Wm. Sherman, U. S. sub-Treasurer; Richard S. Floyd, member of the old board, capitalist; Chas. M. Plum, merchant, and himself. They had all been notified and had accepted with the exception of Mr. Sherman, who was in the last. The only reason Mr. Lick had for appointing a new board of trustees was his anxiety to push forward the execution of his trusts. The old board were very slow and this step was his only remedy. In regard to young John Lick having refused to sign the contract to erect a monument to a [illegible] member of the family, it was the first time he had heard of it. The change in no way affected the bequests, which would remain the same as ever.

Heavy Rain at Red Bluff.

Red Bluff, Sept. 6.—It commenced raining here about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon and has continued up to the present time. The rain fall from 3 to 5 o'clock yesterday was harder than has ever been known in this city for years at this season of the year. A large cloudburst was witnessed here to-day. It appeared to be about fifteen miles north of here, and looked as though the heavens were falling. A very black, well shaped cloud was visible, and extended from the main body of the cloud to the earth, through which water seemed to be flowing, as if the flood gates of heaven were open. Much wheat was stacked upon the ranches and ranchmen are grumbling.

Congressman Piper in San Francisco.

San Francisco, Sept. 5.—Congressman Piper arrived by train this evening. An immense crowd met him at the ferry wharf, and with bands, fireworks and transparencies escorted him to Platt's Hall, which was densely crowded to hear his refutation of the charges and affidavits affecting him. Piper excused himself from a speech on the ground of fatigue from his journey, and briefly stated that with regard to affidavits which had been published, he never heard of the men who made them, and that the whole thing was a campaign dodge, gotten up to defeat him in the coming election, and an infamous lie from beginning to end. He would place himself upon his record and would stand or fall by it.

Dr. Shorb was then introduced, and in a speech of two hours' duration, reviewed the course of the Republican party from a Democratic standpoint and closed with an exhortation to carry the State and country for the Democracy as the only means of escaping the evils of Chinese citizenship, to which he asserted the Republican party was pledged.

Anti-Coolie Hoodlums—Threatening Letters.

Some hoodlums calling themselves anti-Coolies, have been sending threatening letters to several parties in the city to-day, warning them of the proposed destruction of property, and some of life, in case they do not dismiss their Chinese. One of these letters, which the recipient considers genuine from the suspicious characters connected with it, is as follows:

City, Sept. 2, 1876.

Messrs. [illegible] Gents—If you do not immediately take measures toward dismissing your Chinamen your factory will soon share the same fate as the Chinese employers' building on Brannan street. Respectfully

Smallpox.

San Francisco, Sept. 6.—Thirteen new cases of smallpox yesterday and two deaths. No new cases and one death this morning.

Let off Easy.

Charles Brooks, second mate of the ship Anthuac, recently on trial for beating a seaman was to-day sentenced to a month in jail and a fine of $300, which is considered letting him off easy.

Preparation for a Regatta.

The San Francisco Yacht Club is making preparations for a regatta on Saturday. Several outside vessels expect to take part. A lively race is anticipated. The sport has taken an unprecedented impetus this summer.

Montgomery Street Excited.

The street parade of Cooper & Bailey's circus created quite a sensation this morning and Montgomery street idlers turned out in force and blocked that thoroughfare until progress was difficult.

Story of Heroism Spoiled.

A day or two since an item went the rounds of the city papers descanting on the heroism of Capt. Goodell, ship Brown Bros, who it was stated jumped overboard in a heavy gale off Cape Horn, to rescue a drowning seaman. Capt. Goodell spoils the sensation by denying such an incident ever took place.

Grape Brandy Distillery Seized.

San Francisco, Sept. 6.—By direction of Internal Revenue Commissioner Raum, at Washington, A. L. Frost, deputy internal revenue collector for Sacramento district, seized on Monday last the Calistoga grape brandy distillery located at Hot Springs in Napa county, with 650 gallons grape brandy and 1,000 gallons wine. The offense alleged to have been committed is the sale of unstamped brandy in January 1875. United States District Attorney Coghlan has been notified to commence proceedings for confiscation.

Opening of the Railway to Los Angeles.

End of Track of S. P. R. R., Sept. 5.—A special excursion train bringing the guests of the Southern Pacific to witness the laying of the last rail between San Francisco and Los Angeles arrived at noon to-day. There were about seventy persons in the party. It was intended to lay half a mile of track in the presence of the excursionists, but owing to the lateness of the arrival of President Crocker, those in immediate charge of the work had shortened the distance to about 1,000 feet. Five thousand men, mostly Chinese, did the work, the ties being all in place and the rails only having to be laid and spiked. Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Platt. Gen. Colton introduced the president, Chas. Crocker, who made a speech, rehearsing the great labor in building the road and its eminent advantages to the State, and then drove the last spike, which was of gold, the hammer being of silver. The mayor, aldermen and prominent citizens of Los Angeles were present, besides the populace of the entire region. The scene was enlivened by music, the noisy blowing of steam whistles and the enthusiastic shouts of the crowd which amounted to about 10,000 people. After the ceremonies wine flowed in torrents. The excursionists are now the guests of Los Angeles. They proceeded there immediately and will be handsomely entertained this evening. The return train will leave Los Angeles at 9 A. M. to-morrow and reach San Francisco about the same hour, Thursday.

Los Angeles, Sept. 5.—The excursion train from this city returned at 5 15, followed immediately by the train containing the San Francisco party. A reception will be given them at the rooms of the Union club at 5 o'clock this evening, to conclude with a [illegible]. The Daily Oregonian.

THURSDAY MORNING, SEPT. 7, 1876.

THE COAT DOES NOT MAKE THE MAN.

A good deal of capital is expected to be made by some newspapers and politicians by lauding candidates who wear coarse clothes, and abusing others who prefer fine ones, and by sneering at a man whose hands may happen to be soft, and praising another whose occupation may have caused the palms of his hands to become more or less callous.

It seems to us that such an attempt to influence voters is an insult to their understanding.

Mr. Harrison and Mr. Williams are each candidates for Governor. Both are rich men and able to indulge themselves in whatever kind of dress their taste inclines them to. Mr. Harrison has been abused because he chooses to invest his person in broadcloth, and Mr. Williams is held up to praise because he is said to come down to breakfast every day in blue jeans. We don't know that any comment has been made on Mr. Hayes' style of dress, but his competitor has been sneered at on account of his swallow-tailed coat and fine linen shirt.

Now, we submit that there can be nothing in the material and cut of the clothes a man may wear, provided he pays his tailor's bill promptly, or in the texture of the skin of his palms, to make him better or worse. If it could be shown that he was in the habit of cheating his tailor, or if his palms were afflicted with an itching that only coin or greenbacks could allay, then there might be some reason in what might be said. But a man's intellect is not affected by the [illegible] of his coat tails nor his worth by the [illegible] of his skin. His mind will be as broad and comprehensive when his body is en[illegible] in a coat with narrow and [illegible] tails as it would be if he rivaled the [illegible] Quaker in the amplitude of his skirts, or wore none at all; but appeared before the public in a jacket. Nor [illegible] the quality of the material affect the [illegible] of his judgment; he may be wise [illegible] or serge.

The English people seemed to fear that the [illegible] of the barrister's [illegible] would involve the loss of the barrister's skill; but they found that cases [illegible] tried by bare-headed lawyers with [illegible] ability as they used to be when [illegible] covered their crania [illegible] awful combinations of silk and hair.

When means are plentiful dress is [illegible] a matter of taste and fitness. If [illegible] is able, there is no reason why he [illegible] not wear what he likes and in the [illegible] he likes, and to say he is any better [illegible] for doing so, is to speak foolishly. Common sense should, of course, [illegible] what should be worn and when. [illegible] would be reckoned a fool if he put [illegible] broadcloth and patent leather boots to [illegible] ditching in, and so he would also [illegible] if he wore his ditching [illegible] to church when he had a better one [illegible], but beyond that there is nothing to say.

[illegible] able is it to say that a [illegible] or not, cold and unsympathetic, or [illegible] as his hands may happen to be hard or tender. Labor is equally [illegible] able however it comes; but it [illegible] come to all in the same way. [illegible] toil [illegible] as writers, lawyers, [illegible] in many trades, and [illegible] by painful experience the bitterness [illegible] and the difficulty of providing [illegible] subsistence for a numerous family, and yet their hands may be white and [illegible] and soft as any woman's. Those are [illegible] in as full a sense as any whose [illegible] of a different sort, but none the more fatiguing to the body and rarely ever so wearing on the mind, have in[illegible] their hands and made them [illegible]. Besides, what subtle connection [illegible] between hard hands and soft [illegible]? Do sensibility of soul and insensibility of finger ends vary directly? Is [illegible] any sense or reason in saying a rich [illegible] is necessarily a bad man, or a poor [illegible] a good one?

The fact is a man is a man no matter [illegible] he is rich or poor—well or ill [illegible]. If he has in him the qualities which go to make a sensible, honest and benevolent member of society it matters [illegible] little where he is to be found, whether in the [illegible] of wealth or struggling with poverty. If he is a candidate for office there will be better reasons for [illegible] him than the color, cut or [illegible] of his habiliments. If he is an unworthy man, what he wears, or does not wear, is no additional reason for opposing his election. If it is believed that a certain candidate, on account of lack of ability or integrity ought not to be elected to office, it is right to say so and to give whatever reasons there may be for such belief; but to say he is unfit to be elected because he has tender hands or wears broadcloth or eschews blue jeans is arrant nonsense.

HON. O. C. PRATT'S WHEAT FIELD.

The following from the California Farmer is enough to make one's head swim. Judge Pratt came to Oregon from Illinois in 1848 and bought the old Cook & Fletcher farm, in Yamhill, near Lafayette, with the stock upon it, for $5,000. This was probably then the best improved place in Oregon. In 1850 Pratt sold the place and stock for about $25,000. He was appointed associate justice of the supreme court of the Territory by Polk in 1848, and removed to California in 1855, where he has become a very distinguished citizen and a millionaire:

> We are frequently inquired of relative to our "large grain fields," and when we report them by letters to friends abroad, they seem to doubt that our California grain growers can manage grain fields as large as we tell them—they think a few hundred or a thousand acres a monster farm—save in a few of the Western grain States on "prairie land"—and when we speak of some of our farms of from 5,000 to 20,000 acres, they hesitate to believe until they have visited our "Golden Land"—and then they say, "the half has not been told them."
>
> We have just received the following statement of the crop from the "Aguas Frias Rancho," in Butte county, containing this year full 13,000 acres of wheat. It is a very extensive ranch and is owned by the Hon. O. C. Pratt:
>
> "The 13,000 acres this year in wheat will certainly average over 30 bushels to the acre, thus giving a yield of near 400,000 bushels. The grain is very heavy and of a superior quality, equal to any ever grown in the State. It will be seen by this statement that the crop on this ranch is worth nearly a half a million of dollars. What say our Eastern Farmers to this? Yet we have some as large ranches, and some that are larger still, yet none superior in cultivation or yield, we give this statement in answer to the inquiries to which we allude, and shall speak of others also, hereafter.
>
> We should state here that the "Aguas Frias Rancho" contains something over 25,600 acres in all, including the wheat lands named and in pasturage, woodland, garden, etc.
> On this ranch there are upwards of 10,000 sheep, 400 head of cattle and 200 horses, and is one of the finest, best managed, most productive and valuable tracts on this coast.

The Centennial boat races have not resulted as they were expected to. It was pretty generally anticipated that the English crews would be more successful. As it turns out, they have won but one race, not counting the one given to them on a claim of foul. The result of the race between the Thames crew and the Faulkner-Regan crew was a surprise, as the Thames crew were probably the best amateurs in England. Perhaps the result of these races may throw some light upon the causes of the defeat of American men and horses in England. It is highly probable that neither country can send a crew to the other that can row as well as at home. The difference in climate will make a corresponding difference in the condition of the foreign crew. It is remarkable also that few imported English horses run in this country as well as in England, and it is certain that neither Lecompte nor Prioress were as good in England as at home. Nor has Preakness, as yet, done as well in England as he frequently did here. In the great boat race between Harvard and Oxford, the Harvard crew was out of condition, Mr. Loring, the stroke, being wholly unfit to row. The only American crew that ever won a race on the other side of the Atlantic was the St. John's Paris crew on the Seine in France, where they met the English rowers on fairer terms as far as climate goes than they could have done in England.

Mr. Gladstone's pamphlet on the Eastern question, following as it does, the expression of similar views by Mr. John Bright, will be very influential in giving shape to the opinion of the English people on that subject. It is already reported that England has changed her position and that she is no longer the protector of Turkey against Russia. This will, no doubt, greatly strengthen the war party in Russia, and render still more probable the open participation of that nation in the contest now going on.

Mr. Hewitt has written to the Secretary of the Treasury for facts and official information in the possession of the Treasury Department touching the property returns and income taxes of Mr. Tilden and Mr. Hayes. In due course of time we will see in the Eastern papers exactly how each stands. We venture to predict that Mr. Hayes will be shown by the official records to have neither evaded nor attempted to evade any legal tax either by giving false returns or neglecting to give any at all.

The news from the Sioux expedition indicates that Gen. Terry is about to give up the chase after Sitting Bull, as the infantry are reported to be on the march back to Fort Peck. It is a great pity that nothing more has been done to avenge the death of Custer and his men and restore the lost prestige of the army. Sitting Bull, in the estimation of the Indians, will be a greater chief than ever.

Gov. Hayes having been charged with underrating his property and not paying as much income tax as he should have done, comes out at once with a plump denial of the charge and furnishes the Ohio State Journal with a detailed statement of his property and the amount of tax leviable upon it. He does not leave the charge to be explained by his secretary or his friends.

The victory in Vermont was expected, but it is a good sign of the times to note the largely increased Republican majority, and one which may be taken as indicative of what is to occur in other States.

POLITICAL CAMPAIGN IN OREGON.

DR. WATTS' SPEECH AT ST. HELENS.

ST. HELENS, Sept. 6, 1876.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

We had the pleasure of hearing last evening, in the courthouse, Dr. J. W. Watts and E. A. Cronin on the political issues of the day. Dr. Watts' speech was very able and pointed, and was received with rounds of applause. He went after the Democracy in much the style he used to hunt coons on Sanvie's Island. He brought them into camp, or at least their hides. It was too warm for the "Boss Tweed" of Columbia county, he went outdoors to cool. It was admitted as a very able address by all parties, and showed up the fallacy of Democratic subterfuges to a dot. The contrast between Hayes and Tilden was very vividly drawn—the one leading the Boys in Blue up Lookout mountain; the other declaring, in Chicago, the war a failure. The Indiarubber platform of the Democratic party was well pictured and the sly movements of the "Oily Gammon" Tilden. The phrases used to please the States rights and ultramontane rings were fully exposed. E. A. Cronin, the great reformer, followed. He said he didn't feel first-rate. His speech was very easy and slippery, full of Babcock, Fisher, Belknap, &c., &c. Said Hayes was nominated by Grant; didn't read the papers, often looked at his watch, and closed. There was a big delegation from Scappoose, and the ladies were out in full force.

CITIZEN.

From a gentleman from Tacoma on Tuesday, the Tribune learns that there is not a single case of smallpox in either the old or the new town. In the Puyallup, however, are five cases, all in one house. Every member of the family introducing the disease, but one, has been taken down with it, as also the man who nursed the first victim, since dead, though the said nurse was once before afflicted with the same disease. Two nurses, both men, are in attendance upon the sick (who consist of two men and three women) and a third is wanted, a woman. The house is kept guarded by the inhabitants of the valley, to keep away others from the infection. Father Chirouse, agent at Tulalip, has sent up for his Indians to come home, and they will doubtless go. Chinamen in any number can be got in their places, and but little fear is apprehended from a lack of help. One child in the family above referred to yet remains uninfected, and the nurse has but the mildest type, a mere symptom of the disease. Vaccination is general throughout the valley, and the other precautions of careful living cleanliness, avoidance of contamination, generally observed. Hop picking has not really commenced, but will on or before next Monday.

On last Saturday the Governor of Oregon received at his office, from the General Land Office, certified copy of list No. 2 of selections of lands for the benefit of agriculture and the mechanic arts, embracing 10,620.86 acres. This list completes the Agricultural College grant of 90,000 acres, except about 80 acres rejected on account of pre-emption filings.

There comes from Boone county, Iowa, the story of a man who, growing weary of his wife's absence on a visit to her mother, hurried her return by having a photograph of his house taken, with himself and a neighbor's wife standing side by side on the porch. This he sent to his better half, and she returned by the first train.

REPORTS.

The committee on ways and means submitted the following report which was placed on file:

To the Honorable the Common Council—Your committee on ways and means have had under consideration the ordinance making appropriation for deficiencies in the centennial celebration, and have examined the vouchers and exhibits presented, and find that the committee appointed by the Council and citizens have performed their work to the entire satisfaction of the public, and as economically as could be expected under the circumstances, and herewith return said ordinance with the recommendation that the same do pass.

E. J. W. STEMME,
S. G. SKIDMORE,
J. R. WILEY,
Committee on Ways and Means.

The report of the viewers in the matter of the lateral extension of Second street, was read and referred to the committee on streets and public property.

A report from the street superintendent was read and referred to the committee on streets and public property.

ORDINANCES.

From the committee on streets and public property: making an appropriation for the improvement of B. street; read three times and passed.

From the same committee: authorizing the improvement of public grounds; read three times and passed.

From the committee on ways and means: Making an appropriation out of the general fund to supply deficiency in the receipts of the centennial fund; read third time and passed.

RESOLUTIONS.

The following resolutions were read and adopted:

Resolved, That the committee on accounts and current expenses be and are hereby directed to report at the next meeting of the council, at what rate suitable rooms for the use of the council and offices can be leased at.

Resolved, That the city attorney be and is hereby directed to inquire into the present condition of Third street, between Ash and A streets, as to the west line thereof at and adjacent to the fractional block north of Block 44, and report the facts and his opinion thereon as early as practicable.

Resolved, That persons wishing the council chamber on Saturday next to consider the sending of specimens of fruit to the Centennial Exposition, shall be permitted to use the same in the afternoon of that day.

On motion the council adjourned.

THE COURTS.

COUNTY COURT—WOODWARD, J.—WOODWARD AND KELLY COMMISSIONERS.

In the matter of the petition of B. O. Severance and others for the location of a road 40 feet wide, from Albina to St. Johns, Henry Stephenson, W. P. Jones and Andrew Gulser appointed viewers, to meet with C. W. Burrage at the Oregon Iron Works on Wednesday, Sept. 13th at 9 o'clock A. M.; petitioners to file an undertaking to the approval of this court in the sum of $50.

Justice of the peace and witness fees in Powell's valley, in the cases of State vs James Deaver and F. Miller, disallowed.

Petition of E. J. Taylor for relocation of county road upon the land of petitioner; petition allowed; Benjamin Snover, —— Painter and Larkin Russell appointed viewers, and C. W. Burrage, surveyor, to meet at Taylor's landing, on the Columbia river, on Tuesday, Sept. 19th, at 9 A. M., for the purpose of making re-survey.

Mrs. Boon allowed $10 per month, for three months, temporary relief.

S. B. Ward allowed $10 per month, until further orders, for temporary relief.

Mrs. Tompkins allowed $10 per month, until further orders, temporary relief.

Ordered that $10 be allowed for the temporary relief of Mrs. Coleman.

Ordered that the amount of official bond of the county treasurer be fixed at $50,000.

Ordered that O. M. Barnard, county assessor, be allowed the sum of $1,000 balance due on salary.

GOOD FOR OREGON.

Mr. Seth Luelling & Son, of Milwaukie, have received the following letter from Philadelphia, dated Aug. 13th which will require no explanation:

S. Luelling & Son—GENTS: Your specimen cherries have all arrived. Your last contribution (Luelling Seedling) were in excellent condition and created the greatest of interest, no such fine specimens having ever been seen in the city before. They have been examined by the pomological jurors, as well as by reporters of some dozen papers, and were pronounced superior to anything of the kind yet exhibited. Thanks for the contribution. Our apples and pears should be represented and add fresh laurels to the productions of our State. Yours, respectfully,

A. J. DUFUR,
Commissioner for Oregon.

One of the coolest spots in town is the "Fountain," where Peter Wilhelm holds forth. He keeps the best liquors and cigars, and Weinhardt's best beer. His billiard tables are excellent, and the "Virginius" pool table continues a favorite.

W. L. Adams, M. D., A. M., LL. D., corner of First and Salmon streets, is curing the most inveterate chronic diseases of all kinds at a low price, by medicated, electric lightning cream baths, and by combining the German and French with the American improved practice, mixed with a little common sense. His treatment is, in the main, entirely original, and works almost miracles, as his numerous patients will attest. Is extraordinarily successful in treating female complaints.

Sore eyes speedily relieved. The worst form of piles cured, and the most malignant cancers eradicated root and branch without the use of the knife, or the money refunded.

WALLOWA VALLEY DIFFICULTY.

LETTERS FROM JUDGE BRAINARD IN RELATION TO THE THREATENED INDIAN OUTBREAK—MILITARY PROTECTION DEMANDED.

Gen. O. O. Howard received yesterday the following letter from E. C. Brainard, judge of Union county, relative to the present menacing attitude of Joseph's band of warriors:

UNION, OREGON, Sept. 1, 1876.

GEN. O. O. HOWARD, PORTLAND, OGN., Dear Sir—Accompanying this I send a letter from John McCall and others of the Wallowa valley. McCall must not be confounded with McNall who had the difficulty. The settlers in the valley understand that they have the right to locate there, and to the protection of the State. Joseph and his band can hardly be classed as wild Indians, being accustomed to the habits and ways of the whites; hence the sentiment is becoming general here that forbearance has almost ceased to be a virtue.

From the last interview of Col. Wood with Joseph at Lapwai, you have no doubt noticed the animus of the latter. The band collectively are insolent and aggressive. They have no doubt helped themselves at different times to beef. They have been accused of taking horses, but the last charge I think can not be substantiated by positive proof.

I have endeavored to restrain all aggressive action on the part of the whites to the present time, and in conclusion, general, permit me to say that I have been careful to present the situation truthfully and without prejudice, and that it seems absolutely necessary that a small force be stationed in the valley; or that some other precautionary measures be taken to preserve the peace.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,
E. C. BRAINARD,
County Judge.

Following is a copy of the letter received by Judge Brainard, and forwarded to General Howard:

HEAD OF WALLOWA LAKE, Aug. 27, 1876.

HON. E. C. BRAINARD—Dear Sir: This evening we—John McCall, George Wilson and H. Perkins—loaded Perkins' seine for the purpose of making a haul of fish on our fishing claim (which we have complied with the law in putting up our notices and using the same for fishing purpose), when two Indians commenced striking at me (John McCall) with clubs, using at the same time loud talk. I thought it meant fight, and with considerable dodging and parrying managed not to receive any severe bruises from the Indians. There were at the time about fifteen Indians collected on the beach, but only two of them took an active part in the fight. The Indians also made their threats to Mr. Perkins and others, that they were going to stop the whites from fishing here in two days from now. We have spent considerable money here for the purpose of putting up fish, and we do not like to quit and be driven from our homes with clubs in the hands of brutal Indians.

Well, Judge, I have stated facts, with the exceptions of a slight bruise that I received on the arm when parrying off blows from the Indians' clubs, and of the Indians' pulling down our notices, and damaging our fishing ground. If the Indians had the slightest cause for venting their hellish spleen on me, we don't know what it is. If I was a quarrelsome man I would not say a word. Now we mean business; that is, we must have protection in some shape. I would not take a clubbing from a white man any more than from an Indian, if I die for it. Still I do not approve of fighting, neither am I calculated to fight fist fights. We are not scared nor excited; but we want this clubbing stopped in some shape.

I understand that Joseph and his band are camped in the middle valley. A small squad is camped at or near the foot of the lake.

Judge, I hope you will not allow your citizens to be trampled upon by a band of outlaws. I know you will not. The foregoing are facts that can and will be testified to. We think too much of our homes to be driven from them. We pay for government protection and we demand it.

Hoping to hear from you immediately, we are truly yours,

JOHN McCALL,
H. PERKINS,
GEO. WILSON,
JAS. DAVIS,
F. PROEBSTEL.

FROM ALBANY.

Our regular correspondent, writing under date of the 6th inst., sends the following:

Public schools will open in two weeks.

The Ochoco beef in this market is extra good.

Four hundred Chinamen are now employed in this place.

Unusual good health prevails in this city, which is a source of gratification to us old settlers.

Rev. S. S. Vandersol, former pastor of the M. E. church, left for Forest Grove (his new home) to-day.

A few lots of wheat are selling at 57 cents per bushel; farmers generally holding off for a higher price.

Steamer twenty-four hours behind time at this writing, which shows the necessity of improving the river.

The farmers are very busy threshing their grain, which interferes with trade in the city for the time being.

This city (one of the most prosperous in the State) is enjoying the usual amount of thrift and life as to business.

Mr. Stroud, the popular conductor, is now connected with the Albany express line between this and Portland.

The Albany Collegiate Institute opened on Monday last with very encouraging prospects. Prof. L. J. Powell, principal, assisted by Prof. Hust.

The O. S. N. Co.'s steamers continue to visit this place at regular intervals—say two or three times per week—which is a great accommodation to the public.

We understand that the new pastor of the M. E. church in this place was met at the depot by many friends, on Monday evening last, who gave him and his family a hearty welcome.

PACIFIC UNIVERSITY.

A correspondent sends the following educational notes from Forest Grove:

Herbert F. McCormack, who received honors from the medical department of the University of California, was a graduate of Pacific University of the class of 1874.

The next year of Pacific University, which opens September 6th, has in prospect a fuller attendance of students than any previous one. This is indicated by the number already on the ground, the number that have written to make provision for board or from the demand beyond the supply for vacant houses for families coming for the sake of education.

It is expected that Captain Lamson will occupy the chair of mathematics in Pacific University during the coming year. Captain L. went from Oregon to the Naval Academy at Annapolis in 1858. He graduated among the first in his class, and has since been offered a position as instructor there. He was in active service all through the war, except when laid up with wounds, and greatly distinguished himself. He has resided in Yamhill for several years, and has sustained the reputation of a Christian, a scholar and a gentleman. There is probably no better mathematician in the State. With its other attractions, and the additions for the next year of Miss Mack as preceptress and Captain Lamson in mathematics, Pacific University will undoubtedly keep up its high reputation for good discipline and sound scholarship.

A Theory Borne Out by Facts.

The theory that lack of vigor is the underlying cause of disease is receiving daily confirmation of the most positive kind in the cure of dyspepsia, liver disorders, and kidney, bladder and uterine complaints by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the ruling remedy for maladies attributable to weakness. This superb tonic is never employed without the most beneficial effects. The liver, the bowels, the organs of urination, and indeed the entire system acquires both vigor and regularity through its action, since it gives a healthful impetus to every failing function. It is an incomparable specific for chills and fever, and other maladies of a malarial type, prevents their attacks, is a reliable means of counteracting the effects of undue exposure or fatigue, and soothes as well as strengthens the nervous organism.

A COLD SEEMS A SMALL AFFAIR.—Most people neglect it. Who minds it? Yet a cold may turn to Consumption, and then follows almost certain death. Take a cold in time, then; that is, take Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant, the well known standard remedy for Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all Pulmonary Complaints, and your Cold will disappear, as well as all apprehension of danger.

HOW ELI PERKINS GOT INTO THE TREASURY.

"Please give my friend, Mr. Perkins, a good position in your Department, and oblige yours truly, A. Lincoln." The message was written on a card to the Secretary of the Treasury, Chase, the signature apparently that of the President, and the bearer was duly installed into a clerkship at $1,600 a year. Time rolled on and three months had passed when Eli appeared at the Secretary's desk with another card, as follows: "Please promote my friend, the bearer, and oblige yours truly, A. Lincoln." Eli was content with being rated at $2,000 per annum for three months longer, when a similar card to the foregoing procured him a raise of $100 more, and the clerks were beginning to be a little astonished at the rapid promotion of the most strictly ornamental loafer in the department. About this time the Secretary of the Treasury, while riding with the President, remarked that he had attended to his wishes regarding that Mr. Perkins, and trusted that he was pleased with his action in the matter. The surprised President replied in return that he could remember no such man. An investigation being started, the alert Eli promptly hurried to the White House, and after waiting patiently in the ante-rooms for several hours, was finally admitted to the Presidential presence. He confessed to Mr. Lincoln that, animated by a sincere desire to benefit the nation, he had used his name on the cards aforesaid, but he pleaded in extenuation that the signatures were excellent imitations, and he had only done the whole thing "for a little flyer." "Now, Mr. President," he said, winningly, producing a card from his pocket, "do me the favor to glance at this, and you will see at once what an odd knack I have at these little imitations." The card read: "Mr. Secretary: Please have Mr. Perkins furnished with champagne cocktails every two hours while on duty and charge the same to the Stationery Fund. Yours truly, A. Lincoln." The President read the card, his lips twitched nervously for a moment or two, something like a cough-suppressed chuckle was heard under his vest as he tried unsuccessfully to frown on the unabashed Eli. At last he said: "You may go, Mr. Perkins." Eli bowed and made for the door. With his hand on the knob he suddenly remembered something, and, smiling sweetly, he turned and murmured: "Mr. President, my position—shall I——?" "You may keep it for the present, sir," was the reply, and Eli Perkins slid down to the national money factory and told the boys how he had refused the appointment of Minister to Austria, though the President had begged him to take it on his knees.—Reminiscences of a Japanese Minister in Washington.

THE HORSE'S PRAYER

Coming up hill strike me not
Coming down hill hurry me not
On level ground spare me not
Loose in stable, forget me not.

Of hay and corn rob me not
Of clean water stint me not
With sponge and water, neglect me not
And soft, dry bed deprive me not

Tired or hot, wash me not
If sick or cold, chill me not
With bit or reins, oh! jerk me not
And when you are angry strike me not

ROMANCE OF HISTORY

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL WOMAN OF HER TIME.

In the early part of the fourteenth century the island of Corsica was a bone of contention [illegible] the maritime republics of Italy, the [illegible] of Savoy and the kingdom of France The [illegible], at that time, was ruled by the [illegible] Francis the First, one of the most [illegible] characters in history [illegible] ambition was only equaled by his reck[illegible]ity, and he alone of all princes of [illegible], ventured to break a lance with the [illegible] emperor, Charles the Fifth, who so [illegible] defeated him at Pavia, in 1521 In the [illegible] year, King Francis had a [illegible] with his wife, who had reproached [him] for his infidelities. One day, maddened [by] her taunts, he [said] to his valet, Gavini, a [illegible]

"Ah, I must get rid of her majesty. Her [illegible] is too bad. I am sure that the holy [illegible] will grant me a divorce from her But [where] shall I find a new wife?"

"Your majesty has only to choose among the [illegible] beautiful princ[esses] of Europe," said [the] valet.

"But there is not a single beautiful princess in Europe," rejoined the king, almost angrily "[illegible] of Savoy is the only one that is not [abso]lutely homely, and I hate her father so [illegible] that I should be reluctant to enter in[to] [illegible] with a member of his family"

"[If your] majesty will permit me," said the [valet], "I could tell you of a lady with [illegible] in her veins who is young and [illegible] to grace the throne of [illegible]"

"[Who is] she?" asked the king eagerly

"[It] is the Marchioness Isolena Ballo."

"[illegible] heard of her."

"[She] is the richest woman in Corsica, [and] her ancestors, since time immemorial, [have been] masters of the real estate and where [illegible] more powerful than the real [illegible] of the island ever were. Her grand[illegible] was a niece of the emperor Maximil[ian] [illegible] she is the last of her race, your ma[jesty]"

"[The] last of her race, Gavini, and still un[illegible]"

"[Your] Majesty, there is a strange tale to [illegible] Gavini. "About seven years [illegible] with her aged father, [illegible] a boat ride off Ajaccio. A thun[der] [illegible] up, and the frail bark was [illegible]ising. The old marquis was [illegible]

"[illegible]" he cried, in his terror, "[illegible] alone can save us. Pray to [illegible] to remain a virgin, and [illegible] to solicit your hand!"

"[illegible] the pledge, and now she is [illegible] years, and one of the [illegible] in the world."

[illegible] who [illegible] as if he had [illegible] wife, had by [illegible] in the sub[illegible]

"[illegible]" "how does this mar[chioness] [illegible]"

"[illegible] I have never seen a lady [illegible] than she. She [illegible] whom Italy, the land [illegible] gave birth to. Tall, [illegible] with a complexion of mar[illegible] would have gladly [illegible] in [illegible] her ripe lips the tempting [illegible] in her black eyes all the [illegible] of love."

[illegible] the artful valet stimulated [illegible] of his royal master, until the latter [illegible] him:

"[illegible] like to make her acquaintance, [illegible] has to be done in a very discreet [illegible]"

[illegible] hemming and hawing for a long [illegible] Gavini [illegible] that he himself might [illegible] and make overtures to the beau[illegible] [illegible]chioness

The king [illegible]ly embraced this offer. "You shall go, Gavini," he cried "Go to [illegible] my [illegible], and draw as many [illegible] as you need"

"[illegible] majesty," said the valet, "money [illegible] for such a purpose I ought [illegible] and also—"

"What?"

"[illegible] I ought to be clothed with the [illegible] of a [illegible], your highness"

[illegible] at his valet a minute without [illegible] anything. Then he burst into laughter "[illegible]," he exclaimed, "you are the most [illegible] I ever saw But your idea is [illegible] Yes, you low-born villain, you [illegible] go as my envoy to Corsica. Pro[illegible] the marchioness, whose charms you [illegible] so [illegible]ically, to come to Paris, and [illegible] you right royally"

On the following day, Gavini, to whom royal [illegible] had been given, to the dismay of [illegible] of state, set out for Corsica. [illegible] had a large retinue of servants, and acted [illegible] in keeping with the exalted position [illegible] which his [illegible] had so suddenly raised [illegible]

In due course of time he arrived at Ajaccio and [illegible], with all his attendants, upon the [illegible] Ballo

He had not exaggerated her charms. She [illegible] most charming and attractive [illegible]

Upon [illegible] the credentials to her, he said:

"My royal master, your excellency has en[trus]ted me to bring about more cordial relations between France and the island of which you are [illegible], if not by Divine right, at [least] by the right of your surpassing beauty as by virtue of the time-honored claims of your [illegible]"

The compliment was not lost upon the hand[illegible] [illegible]. She dismissed the valet envoy in the most gracious manner

"I will capture her easily" thought Gavini, as he took his departure "I believed she was too intelligent to be gulled by such transparent flattery. Very well—so much the better for me."

But a young admirer of the marchioness, [illegible] Conde Varo, who in years gone by had [bee]n at the gay court of France, had recognized him

The conde solicited a private interview with the marchioness after Gavini had withdrawn

At first she hesitated to grant the request because Conde had so often urged her to give him her hand But he was so persistent that she went with him to her boudoir

"Isolena," he said to her, "do you know who that man is?"

"The envoy of the king of France Conde" she replied "His credentials show it"

"That may be, Isolena" he rejoined "but I am sure that the king in sending the fellow—"

"The fellow?"

"Yes, the fellow Isolena I am sure that the king in sending the fellow to you has played a very contemptible trick upon you"

"How so?"

"Because this pretended envoy is no other than King Francis body servant"

"A menial!" she cried with flashing eyes

"Yes the lowest of the low he who dresses and undresses his majesty of France."

"And the king could put the affront on me by sending such a rascal to me?"

"It is not yet all, Isolena. This Gavini is a Corsican, a serf of your father's, who fled the country twenty years ago because he had committed several disgraceful thefts.

The beautiful marchioness was by this time so enraged that she uttered the following terrible oath.

"[illegible] I lay King Francis in my power [illegible] him to [illegible] as the [illegible] to me. I swear it, and should I lose my own life and ruin this whole island that I love so well!"

At midnight on the same day Gavini was dragged from his bed and thrust into a dungeon

Six hours later he was confronted by the executioner and the indignant marchioness

"You are about to die," she said pitilessly, to the ill fated man

"How dare you treat the sacred person of an envoy in this manner?" he cried

"The sacred person of an escaped serf and thief!" she exclaimed "Gavini I know who you are"

"The envoy of the king of France"

"You mean his valet Now listen to me, I shall have your flesh torn from your limbs with red hot pincers if you do not confess what induced King Francis to commit so infamous an outrage as to send you to me in the capacity of an envoy"

Gavini referred once more to the inviolability of his office

She ordered the executioner to torture him

A horrible scene ensued

The prisoner was placed on a wooden bench and then executioner after binding him began to tear off his flesh with red hot pincers

For ten minutes the victim though uttering the most unearthly yells refused to confess

At last when the agony became too great he told the marchioness what he had come to Corsica for

This still added to her fury

"What!" she cried "King Francis has believed me to be so low as to become his mistress Me who have more ancient blood in my veins than Valois ever had! O he shall rue it! He shall rue it!"

She then ordered Gavini to be beheaded and sent his head in a glass jar filled with white Corsican wine to the king of France Francis the First was beside himself with rage upon receiving this ghastly present

He organized a secret naval expedition to Corsica, and caused Isolena to be kidnapped

She landed at Marseilles in February 1821 The King was there at the time. He refused to see her.

"Have her hair cropped," he ordered, "have her clad in hempen garments, and then whipped through the streets of the city"

This was done on the following day

The beautiful marchioness suffered the torture with astounding fortitude

Not a cry of pain escaped her tightly compressed lips as the executioner's lash descended upon her naked back

At last she opened her mouth, a stream of blood issued from it.

"Who will avenge me!" she gasped

She was avenged a few months later, when Francis the First was overpowered at Pavia, and so badly beaten that he exclaimed "All is lost save honor"

The ease with which the local money market is reported working is doubtless owing in some measure to the sluggishness of certain branches of business which usually at this season of the year create considerable demand upon the financial resources of the country This may be regarded as true of the wheat exporting interest which is generally very active in September, and requires a very considerable amount of capital, often somewhat crippling other branches of business. The present condition financially is more favorable to a large movement of the crop, than before for three or four years, and were other circumstances equally so, a very large proportion of the surplus products would be moved early in the season. But unfortunately the crops generally are full two weeks later than in ordinary seasons, prices are low and inland transportation, it is thought will be cheaper later in the season, with little chance for prices to go much lower Hence, there are inducements, whether they are substantial or otherwise, for the farmers to hold on to their grain for a while at least Some however are under the necessity of selling, but such will hardly supply the present demand. Time only will determine whether their [illegible] may not have been their opportunity, and whether those who hold do better than those who sell.

Legal improvements are still progressing quite extensively and are the sources through which considerable [illegible] are finding their way into general circulation, and the complaints of small dealers about the scarcity of money are becoming less frequent while the laboring classes are generally profitably employed Notwithstanding the existence here and there of the proverbial grumbler a careful observer is forced to admit that progress is the order of the day Industry is necessary to progress, and industry is wealth An exchange from the East predicts that the "better times so long waited for are coming soon, and says

"For three years enterprise has been paralyzed, and the most dismal prophesies have been apparently well nigh realized but the busy marts of commerce, now deserted, shall be thronged again the cheerful buzz of the factories now dismal in their quietude, shall resound with honest industry Then what will be the result? The dollar judiciously invested shall be doubled and trippled and the poor man unheard of, who takes stock in the prosperity of his town and nation, shall be extolled and honored. To all we say keep not your means idle pay your debts, take advantage of the profitable investments now offered whether it be in houses lands or business enterprises and our word for it you will not regret it. The cry of over production is a farce and delusion There is room enough in this broad land of ours for every honest son of toil Hard work will bring success every time. The more discouraging the times of to day the greater the revival when it comes and the sooner it will arrive

Domestic Produce.

One not knowing the exact condition of affairs in regard to the wheat market would judge by the volume of receipts by boat and rail at this place and at the various warehouses up the valley that a very great amount of activity existed and that the wheat was being rushed into market about as rapidly as it is ready But the truth is that comparatively a remarkably small amount is changing hands notwithstanding it is being stored at the rate of several thousand bushels daily The farmers generally are united in the determination not to sell at present prices until they have waited a while at least, and then we suppose when they are better satisfied that offers are all the market will bear they will sell. In that case it may be a query What will they have gained by waiting says one Nothing we might say but the satisfaction of knowing that they have done the best that could be done But after all we deem it too early to begin to seek for reasons why the farmers will not sell their wheat as but few of them are ready to sell now no matter what the condition of the market might be

The flour market is quiet and firm millers being like shippers unable to secure any great amount of wheat, and the mills that are not running on the old stock are mostly doing nothing Oats are in very light receipt and though prices have not advanced the scarcity makes buyers rather more anxious to secure fair lots Bacon is also scarce and firm the demand both for the local trade and shipping having increased Other products rule quiet at quotations The remnants of the wool clip are coming forward and the season will soon close It has been one of steady prices the advance of about [illegible] cents per pound on best qualities that has taken place since the spring clip was first put in the market having been so gradual as to be but little noticed

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship Geo W Elder will sail for San Francisco on Friday morning at 6 o'clock

The steamship Gussie Telfair has been placed temporarily on the northern route and will sail hence for Sitka to morrow at 6 o'clock P M

The steamship California will sail for San Francisco at an early day and will be laid up for repairs

VALUABLE LANDS FOR SALE.

600,000 Acres in

EASTERN OREGON!

For Farming and Grazing Purposes.

THESE LANDS ARE SITUATED IN WASCO Grant and Baker counties and are offered for sale in such sized tracts not less than 160 acres as purchasers may desire. Here is afforded a most favorable opportunity to immigrants and settlers seeking homes and low priced land to acquire both on the most reasonable terms. These lands are excellent for farming and grazing. On most of the tracts no grubbing or other preparation of the land for plowing is requisite. A growth of nutritious grasses covers the uplands affording the best of pasturage while in the valleys and bottom lands is the grass and can be mowed and made into hay. Living springs and streams water the lands in various directions. The uplands or rolling lands can be put into crops with the most satisfactory returns. Fruit particularly peaches plums grapes apples pears and cherries as well as the smaller fruits can be grown in great abundance. The climate of Eastern Oregon is very healthful. Flourishing towns are located at convenient points for trade, the mails are regularly conveyed through it and [illegible] a prosperous population is already established. [illegible] farming stock growing, mining, and other pursuits. Terms $1 25 per acre and upwards according to quality and quantity. Interest ten per cent on deferred payments

LAND FOR IMMIGRANTS.

Choice Farms for Sale.

4,000 ACRES, IN QUANTITIES TO SUIT PURCHASERS.

230 ACRES DUE SOUTH AND ADJOINING the Railroad Depot at Salem all under cultivation and suitable for grain or vegetables.

946 Acres four miles southeast of Salem on the railroad with Mill creek running through it. This is the choicest farming land in Marion county with fine springs, consisting in part of the old Rector donation claim on which I raised the past year fifty bushels of wheat and three tons of timothy per acre The first crop of oats ever raised on part of this land measured ninety four bushels per acre grain weighed and ground chained by Mr Alfred Stanton of Salem

2,700 Acres of prairie and light brush land with timber for farming purposes bounded by the Willamette River for four miles beautiful lake on the east, boat landings all along the river commencing four miles north of Salem—all choice grain land—the largest and most suitable body of land to be found in the Willamette Valley to be purchased by a colony To be sold from $15 to $25 per acre This land will all be immediately resurveyed and can be sold in larger or smaller parcels to suit purchasers. It can be subdivided to the best possible advantage and I can offer any person or persons or colony of persons desiring to purchase homes in the best part of the Willamette Valley near the city of Salem and within reach of the best social advantages as well as most favorably located with respect to markets greater advantages on more favorable terms than they can ever expect to realize again   THOMAS CROSS
